Russian Drive To Free Warsaw Again Resumed

Smashing Attacks Being Made Along Northern Approaches To City

REDS DRIVE WEST FROM BUCHAREST

By NATALIA RENE (U.S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, Sept. 5.—The Russian drive to free Warsaw was in full swing again today along the northern approaches to the Polish capital. Smashing powerful German fortifications, the Reds arrived at the Narew River, last enemy defense line guarding the city.

Other Soviet forces to the south, rolling across Romania, seized the important rail and highway center of Brasov in the Transylvania Alps after a 47-mile march, scooping up Campina and Sinaia on the way.

Capture Valea Mare

Meantime, the westward plunge of the Reds from Bucharest toward Pitesti was marked by the capture of Valea Mare, 122 miles from the Yugoslav frontier, and advanced Soviet units were reported only 50 miles from the frontier and a junction with the army of Marshal Tito.

Romanian troops participated in the capture of Brasov, a supplement to the regular Soviet communiqué revealed. Capture of 9,500 more Germans and the death of 3,000 others was announced in two pockets far behind the Romanian front.

Tells Of 450 Mile 'No Man's Land' Trip Made In France

(Editor's note: Together with five companions, INS war correspondent Graham Hovey drove more than 450 miles from southern France through the "No-Man's-Land" not yet completely cleared of the Nazis, to Rennes in Brittany, from where he filed the following description of the thrilling adventure. French Maquis guided Hovey and his companions on their dangerous, zig-zag journey, much of it through country still infested with Germans. The feat ranks as one of the most spectacular journalistic accomplishments of the war.)

By GRAHAM HOVEY (U.S. Staff Correspondent)

RENNES, France, Sept. 5.—(Tuesday)—Guided by the fabulous French Maquis, five companions and I have skirted the lines of the U. S. 7th army drive through the heart of France and have arrived in Rennes after a thrilling zig-zag journey through the "No Man's Land" separating our northern and southern armies.

We made our exciting trip by jeep through more than 450 miles from Montpellier in the extreme south of France near the Gulf of Lions to Rennes in central Brittany.

Actually, our first contact with the U. S. forces in northern France came at 11:30 Sunday night when the six of us flagged an American (Continued on Page Two)

U. S. TANKS AND PLANES HIT NAZIS

By RICHARD TREGASKIS (U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH U. S. FORCES NEAR MONS, Belgium, Sept. 5.—The smashing defeat administered to the Germans in the Allied advance through Belgium is strikingly illustrated in this area, where the results of the carnage can be seen today for a mile on both sides of the town of Goeignies.

American tanks and artillery worked over a column of German infantry and armored vehicles all Sunday and last night, while Allied planes blasted the enemy from the sky.

This correspondent walked through wreckage extending along the highway as far as the eye could see.

Terrific Destruction

It was a frightful sight, with mangled cars, trucks, buses, maintenance units, command cars, tanks and mobile guns all mingled with the swollen carcasses and horses and human flesh. But there was justice in it. As a one-armed resident of Goeignies remarked:

"This is what the Boche did to us in 1940."

There were some 500 vehicles in this one of three enemy columns which ran solidly into American (Continued on Page Two)

Pittsburgh Man Has Close Call

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 5.—(INS)—James Morrison, 33, today had escaped with slight injuries despite the fact that seconds after the automobile he was driving struck a southbound trolley, a northbound one smashed the wreckage against the first street car.

Morrison, pulled through the roof of his wrecked vehicle by firemen and police, was treated at a Pittsburgh hospital for lacerations.

American Army Most Powerful

Sensational Progress In France Gives New World Rating To Yanks

HISTORIC FEATS BEING RECORDED

By CAPTAIN JOHN H. CRAIG (Written Especially for I.N.S.)

Extremely important but little noted development of the victorious Allied campaign in France is the emergence of the American army as probably the most powerful land fighting machine in the world.

The record of Gen. Eisenhower's armies speaks for itself. In a little more than two months of cyclonic war they have accomplished some of the most difficult feats of the military art. In their operations on D-Day and the weeks of hectic fighting that followed, the American forces with their British and Canadian Allies broke the vaunted Nazi defenses of the Atlantic wall, considered by many to be impenetrable.

Feat Not Fully Realized

The revolutionary magnitude of the feat is still far from being appreciated at its true worth. Never before in modern history has a large scale amphibious assault been made on prepared coastal fortifications, and the results of smaller-scale attacks in this and other modern wars had not been encouraging.

The American-British D-Day assault made military history. Its success will bulk large in the annals of war in the future.

Miniature "Miss Liberty" in the middle of the Seine at Paris is no ordinary statue in the eyes of these homesick Yank soldiers. Secrecy Covers Military Moves Of Allied Forces

Unsubstantiated Reports Hint American Troops May Be Across Reich Border

ANTWERP HAS BEEN OCCUPIED

(BULLETIN) SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCES, Sept. 5.—(INS)—

Lieut.-Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army struck eastward toward the defenses of Germany's inner fortress today while to the west other Allied legions fanned out over Belgium, the Netherlands and northern France.

Patton's headquarters cloaked in a veil of silence their rapidly progressing moves, and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's official spokesman said merely that his general advance continues eastward from Verdun.

The population of Rotterdam, perhaps more cruelly and callously treated by the Nazis than any people save the unfortunate poles of Warsaw, today eagerly awaited arrival of an Allied army of liberation, now reported pounding toward the great North Sea port from Breda, only 30 miles away.

A military blackout threw a mantle of secrecy over major developments on the battlefields that are inching ever closer to the inner fortifications of Nazi Germany.

There were unsubstantiated reports that American troops have swept into Luxembourg and across the frontier of Germany from Belgium, Holland or France. It seemed well-established that the Nazi town of Aachen was under the fire of Allied artillery, but Gen. Eisenhower has yet to announce a major breach into Hitler's home soil.

"Operate your car very cautiously in school zones because school children are in the neighborhood," said Chief of police Robert D. Hanna today. "We will have special traffic watchmen at all school zones but motorists are expected to cooperate," he added.

Vacation days are over for New Castle and Lawrence County school children. In most of the county schools sessions were resumed for the fall and winter term today. In New Castle the schools will open tomorrow for the year.

Labor Day was observed in a quiet manner in New Castle, on Monday. Some of the industries worked as usual, and there was no special public program for the day. Several minor auto accidents were reported on the highways of the county, as a result of traffic.

On a minor scale conditions today were something on the order of the day of the fake armistice near the conclusion of the first world war. A radio report sent out by Brussels and the surrender, purported to tell of the surrender of Germany, and caused a lot of calls to The News, asking for corroboration.

According to incomplete figures on the fatalities in the nation over the Labor Day week-end holiday period, at least 180 persons were killed in traffic and other accidents this year.

Vibration of his house for several minutes about 1 o'clock this morning during the earth tremor was felt by J. H. Houk of 311 North Mercer street.

Earth Tremors In Northeastern Part Of Nation

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Widespread areas of the northeastern United States and eastern Canada were shaken by sharp earth tremors shortly after midnight today, the U. S. Geological Survey said.

There were no immediate reports of serious damage anywhere in the vast affected area. Seismograph experts at Fordham University said the tremors apparently originated in central New York state at a point about 270 miles northwest of New York City. That would be in the neighborhood of Syracuse.

Severe Tremor

The Fordham seismologist described the shocks as "a severe surface tremor but not a severe earthquake."

Buildings were rocked by the tremors, which began at 12:37 a. m. and in some areas lasted nearly a full minute. Frightened householders poured into the streets in hundreds of communities and telephone switchboards were jammed with calls from inquiring subscribers.

Many callers asked to know if one of Hitler's robot bombs had landed.

Early reports indicated the earth shocks were most severe in New (Continued on Page Two)

EARTH SHOCKS ARE FELT HERE

Numerous Inquiries Are Made At Police Station By Local Residents Early Today

Tremors that rocked the east shore line of the U. S. awakened local sleepers about 12:42 a. m. today according to reports received at police headquarters.

The first call came from a West Grant street woman who said she was alone and that someone was rattling doors and windows.

A similar report from a North Hill woman was also recorded.

A few minutes later another report came from another woman in West Grant street stating a shock which moved her bed had been experienced.

The operator of the Pennsylvania Power company substation, Cedar street, reported the building had been shaken and that reports he received said the same experience had been felt in Ohio according to a telephone call.

At three a. m. a teletype message was received at police headquarters stating a tremor had been felt along the eastern Atlantic coast, in the vicinity of New York and New Jersey.

Some Robot Bombs Drop On England

LONDON, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Following a three-day lull, the Germans resumed their robot bomb attacks on the southern counties of England, including the London area, shortly before daybreak today, causing damage and casualties.

This morning's attack which was not on a heavy scale, came after 86 hours in which not a single robot bomb fell on England, the longest lull since the Germans first resorted to this type of warfare over ten weeks ago.

Hear Reports Germany Has New Outbreaks

By THURSTON MACAULEY (U.S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Sept. 5.—Reports reaching neutral diplomats in London were quoted by the London Daily mail today as saying that Germany is on the verge of civil war and has been gripped by a new reign of terror launched by Heinrich Himmler's dreaded Gestapo.

According to this information, civil war may already have broken out in the Reich, which received its first news of the approach of Allied armies today in an article written by Dr. Helmut Suenndermann, acting Nazi press chief.

Meanwhile, Swiss reports revealed that 2,000 men and many hundreds of women were arrested in Berlin alone during the past few days of charges of evading Adolf Hitler's new total mobilization decrees.

Calls For 'Scorched Earth'

Suenndermann, writing in Der Angriff, called on the Germans to employ scorched earth tactics against the Allies in what he called a "people's war" on death and hatred.

His article was to be reprinted by the entire German press today. "No blade of grass," said Suenndermann, "shall feed the enemy, no (Continued on Page Two)

Cars Skid, Wreck, Near Rose Point

When operators of two motor vehicles stepped on their brakes during the rainstorm yesterday afternoon on Route 422, near Rose Point, two accidents occurred. The cars were damaged and one driver, removed to the Jameson Memorial hospital for bruises.

Walter Wallington, 3811 Gordon avenue Royal Oaks, journeying east drove one car that skidded, turned around, struck another car then upset. Several highway guard rails were broken by his car, it was reported.

Dan Testa, 1530 East 174th street Cleveland, operated another car, which also skidded on Route 422, near Rose Point and upset. He was removed to the Jameson Memorial hospital for observation and treatment of bruises.

Severe Storm Hits New Galilee Area

One of the worst thunder storms of the summer struck the New Galilee section Monday afternoon, according to reports from that section.

A valuable Guernsey cow was struck by lightning on the farm of E. B. Owens, New Galilee, and was instantly killed, while a young short-horn heifer nearby was dazed by the bolt, but recovered. The cow was apparently wedged between a fence and a tree when lightning struck the tree.

Washington Roundup

(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

It is disclosed officially in Washington today that the state department is preparing to justify the right of the President to order American forces to restrain future aggressor nations without first asking congress for a declaration of war. Historical precedent, it is revealed, will be cited by the administration as justification for the President's right to use American armed forces immediately to stop war as part of the proposed world security plan.

Word of the state department's plan comes as movements of the Pacific fleet indicate a series of important new steps against the Japanese may be in the offing. Disclosure that an American aircraft carrier task force had carried out a three-day assault against Japan's Bonin and Volcano islands is considered significant in view of the fact there has been little carrier activity on a major scale in recent weeks.

On the domestic front, indefinite federal operation of more than 100 key coal mines appears to be the only solution to strikes called or threatened by the United Mine Workers' supervisory union.

It is reported in the capital, meanwhile, that American manufacturers are considering generous financial offers from the Russian government for long-term observation of American plants by Soviet technicians and workers but are thinking twice before throwing away their export trade.

Radio time for short wave broadcasts of political talks to troops overseas, it is learned, will be allocated on the basis of network time purchased by national political parties for broadcasts within this country.

Heavy Damage To Jap Shipping In Bomb Raids

By FRANK ROBERTSON (U.S. Staff Correspondent)

GEN. DOUGLAS MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, Sept. 5.—Widespread sweeps by allied planes over the week-end destroyed or heavily damaged 17 Japanese freighters, 11 barges, three coastal craft and 22 enemy aircraft, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's communique revealed today.

Twelve Japanese vessels were sunk or damaged off Mindanao on Sunday by allied patrols. The blasting of enemy airfields at Davao was continued.

In Philippine Raids

Catalinas and Liberators took part in the Philippine raids. A lone ship convoy out of Davao gulf, sank three of the ships unaided and damaged three others.

Other Liberators pounded enemy shipping and airdromes in the northern Celebes, attacking in daylight, the big bombers dropped 140 tons of explosives on Langoan in (Continued on Page Two)

Karlsruhe Is Heavily Bombed

LONDON, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Strong forces of American heavy bombers, escorted by Mustang fighters, blasted Karlsruhe in the path of the advancing Third army and other objectives inside Germany by daylight today.

Karlsruhe also was attacked by the RAF during the night. The daylight aerial armadas, including perhaps some 500 fighters and 750 fortresses and Liberators, struck heavily at Stuttgart, Ludwigshafen and Karlsruhe. Because of bad cloud formations, Ludwigshafen was attacked by means of instruments; the other two cities were hit visually.

Heavy Fighting Reported Raging Along Adriatic

(International News Service)

ROME, Sept. 5.—Heavy fighting on the Adriatic sector of the Italian front, with the Germans putting up strong resistance north of the river Conca, Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson announced today.

Fifth army spearheads advancing northwest of Florence are approaching its way to the 26th panzer division of the Gothic line.

The eighth army, in a stiff slug-fest with their British and Canadian Allies broke the vaunted Nazi defenses of the Atlantic wall, considered by many to be impenetrable.

The Germans are employing panzers, Mark IVs and Hornet tanks and recklessly throwing in infantry in their stubborn efforts to halt the allies' push into northern Italy.

In the initial clash, our troops knocked out eight panzers, six Mark IVs and three Hornets.

Paratroops Battle

Strong Nazi armored and paratroop units, fighting determinedly, in the past few days, enabled the Germans to transfer forces from the central sector and replenish their battered infantry formations.

Tanks of the 26th panzer division made their first appearance on the battlefield.

Two American Armies In France Nearing Junction

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN (U.S. Staff Correspondent)

ROME, Sept. 5.—The American army, continuing its rapid advance up the Saone river valley against ineffectual resistance by the Germans, moved steadily today toward a junction with allied forces in northern France, now believed little more than 100 miles away.

French troops have reached Macon, 38 miles north of Lyon, and Sanbonnet de Bruyeres, while on the east bank of the Saone the Americans have driven past Montreuil, 42 miles northeast of Lyon.

Since the allied landings in southern France Aug. 8, a total of 65,000 enemy troops have been taken prisoner.

Brussels Radio Rescinds Report

LONDON, Sept. 5.—(INS)—The Brussels radio today broadcast an entirely unsubstantiated report of a German capitulation and later rescinded it without explanation.

The initial broadcast caused a wild flurry of excitement in London. Headquarters of newspapers and press associations were deluged with inquiries.

According to the London Evening News, the Belgian national radio at liberated Brussels gave publicity to the alleged capitulation with strictest reserve. The announcer emphasized that its accuracy was subject to confirmation and said:

"The report has not been confirmed and the fight goes on."

TEACHERS MEET THIS MORNING

Session Held In Preparation For Opening Of Term Wednesday Morning

Teachers of the New Castle public school system met in the senior high school this morning at 10 o'clock when Superintendent Frank L. Burton held the usual "get-together" of the teachers and principals prior to the opening of the school term Wednesday morning.

Superintendent Burton outlined in a general way the plans for the first semester, welcomed the teachers back and expressed the hope that the schools would get under way with a minimum of confusion.

Dr. John J. McIlwaine, pastor of First Presbyterian church, was the speaker of the day and spoke upon the important task that lies ahead for educators.

Following the general meeting building meetings were held by the principals and teachers of the various schools. Almost all of these were held at 11 o'clock, with a few held early this afternoon.

School opens Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock and the indications today were that with some exceptions the teaching rosters will be filled.

Eisenhower Warns Lowlands Citizens

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower appealed today to Belgian and Dutch refugees and homeless nationals of other countries who might be in the lowland countries to "stand fast" and not attempt to reach their homes immediately, the OWI reported.

In a broadcast message issued through headquarters, the general pointed out that it was important to keep all roads clear for the allied forces and promised that their hour of liberation was near.

The message admonished the subdued peoples to:

"Stand fast now and we can more quickly carry out arrangements for returning you to your own homes, or for your repatriation.

"Your hour of liberation is at hand."

armor and infantry sweeping into Mons. It was a hard fight at first, but the Yanks soon bottled up the Germans and then cut them to pieces.

Many American-made cars were in the wreckage, probably captured at Dunkirk. Sporty staff cars of French and American make were captured intact.

Nazis Got Drunk

An interesting thing about the German divisions trapped by our advances was the fact that they fought only sporadically. The Belgian, who lost his arm in World War I, told me that while Allied artillery and planes worked over the Nazi column, the Germans went into nearby houses and got drunk.

"They were drunk to begin with," he declared.

It was amazing, scrambling through the wreckage, to see trucks loaded with unfired ammunition, and several mobile 88-mm and 40-mm guns and German tanks, their racks full of ammunition.

The only evidence of determined resistance I saw was an anti-tank gun unlimbered and set up for firing with three pale corpses in gray uniforms lying behind it.

Once the ends of the columns were bottled up, the Germans evidently fled from the vehicles, leaving them—including the horsedrawn vehicles—in the center of the street.

Now American bulldozers are going to work on the stupendous tangle of wreckage left of this column. One great "dozer" just smashed two burned staff cars into a pile at the roadside, but there are miles of solid work for it ahead.

In one of these cars, I found a copy of "Mein Kampf" near five miserable wounded Germans, looking for someone to whom they might surrender.

Two freighters and a transport were sunk in this strike, along with two barges and three coastal ships sunk or damaged.

Of 20 Jap fighters rising to intercept the Liberators, three were shot down and four others probably destroyed. One Liberator failed to return.

Other air raids were made against Wewak in British New Guinea, which received 28 tons of bombs; Vogelkop in Dutch New Guinea, which was blasted with 35 tons; and Bougainville, where troops camps, defenses and communications were hit with 39 tons.

ambulance near black-out Nantes and shook hands with Private Vance Cummings of Victorville, Cal., and Private William Hilliard of Ashland, Ky.

Amazed On Journey

Our journey increased our amazement at the accomplishments of the French forces of the interior many times over—for its success was due entirely to the intelligence and thoroughness of that organization and the accuracy of its military information.

Guiding us along the right roads in what constituted a left-hand sweep around mountains, the Maquis successfully filtered us through German columns trying to escape along the lateral roads eastward toward Germany.

Although we crossed the major escape corridors which the Nazis are trying to use from western France, the trip was a succession of unbelievable receptions by overjoyed French people rather than a game of hide and seek with the harried Boche.

The strongest impression was that of people who have liberated themselves showering us with kisses, food, champagne, flowers, cognac and praise, as though we ourselves had done the job of liberating France.

Hear Of Atrocities

Then there were the memories of the brave men of the French patriots forced to carry out unbelievable missions against the Nazi Wehrmacht with no weapons worthy of the name.

After that came the vivid recollections of some of the worst atrocities of the war carried out by the Germans against the people of the region—the worst of which we had a chance personally to corroborate.

While crowds rushed our jeep and threw flowers, I learned how the Nazis had buried fifty Frenchmen up to their necks, after forcing them to dig their own graves, then shot each of them through the head.

At another place where we spent the night, I heard the tale of how the Germans were reported to have wiped out the entire village of Oradour-Sur-Glane, burning 800 women and children in the village church and killing the men outside—an atrocity which we later investigated and were inclined to believe.

The Russians seized Golanau and unofficially placed Red spearheads west of Clajova, on the railway leading through the iron gate.

The fighting in Romania was described as fairly easy, but in Poland the Germans continued to resist every yard of ground.

Crashing Barrage

The new sledge-hammer blow against Warsaw followed a crashing aerial and artillery barrage. The Russians broke through a strong defense line of trenches, minefields and barbed wire to capture 100 towns on a 35-mile front, killing 3,400 Germans en route.

Announcing the offensive several hours before Moscow, Berlin linked it with the threat to East Prussia and admitted that German lines had been pushed back.

Warsaw, a city of 62,000 is called the gateway to Hungary by the retreating Transylvania plains sweep 230 miles westward to the Hungarian frontier. More than 150 surrounding towns and settlements fell to the Russians. Brasov, incidentally, has been a frequent target for American heavy bombers.

Russian aircraft were busy over East Prussia. Stormtroops, operating in three formations, destroyed two of four enemy planes taking off from an airfield and then went after and downed the two others. Six aircraft were blasted on the ground.

A 6,000-ton German supply ship was sunk in the Baltic Sea by bombers of the fleet air arm.

ambulance near black-out Nantes and shook hands with Private Vance Cummings of Victorville, Cal., and Private William Hilliard of Ashland, Ky.

Amazed On Journey

Our journey increased our amazement at the accomplishments of the French forces of the interior many times over—for its success was due entirely to the intelligence and thoroughness of that organization and the accuracy of its military information.

Guiding us along the right roads in what constituted a left-hand sweep around mountains, the Maquis successfully filtered us through German columns trying to escape along the lateral roads eastward toward Germany.

Although we crossed the major escape corridors which the Nazis are trying to use from western France, the trip was a succession of unbelievable receptions by overjoyed French people rather than a game of hide and seek with the harried Boche.

The strongest impression was that of people who have liberated themselves showering us with kisses, food, champagne, flowers, cognac and praise, as though we ourselves had done the job of liberating France.

Hear Of Atrocities

Then there were the memories of the brave men of the French patriots forced to carry out unbelievable missions against the Nazi Wehrmacht with no weapons worthy of the name.

After that came the vivid recollections of some of the worst atrocities of the war carried out by the Germans against the people of the region—the worst of which we had a chance personally to corroborate.

While crowds rushed our jeep and threw flowers, I learned how the Nazis had buried fifty Frenchmen up to their necks, after forcing them to dig their own graves, then shot each of them through the head.

At another place where we spent the night, I heard the tale of how the Germans were reported to have wiped out the entire village of Oradour-Sur-Glane, burning 800 women and children in the village church and killing the men outside—an atrocity which we later investigated and were inclined to believe.

York-New England area. Chandeliers swung and rattled loudly as buildings were shaken violently to their foundations.

One of the first reports came from Springfield, Mass., where two distinct shocks were felt, a comparatively mild one at 12:37 and a much stronger one at 12:39.

Many Inquiries In Boston

In Boston, newspaper offices received scores of calls inquiring about the tremor, but no ill-effects were reported. Greater Cleveland was shaken. Buildings were shaken in Washington. Telephone calls swamped police and newspaper offices, but no damage was reported.

People were equally curious in Detroit where the tremor lasted for 45 seconds and, according to a newspaper editor, "must have waked up half the town."

In central New York state the shock first to be experienced there in seven years were reported "strong." In Rome, N.Y., frightened patients in the City hospital and mental institution were calmed by attendants.

Dishes rattled and fell from shelves in many Philadelphia restaurants.

People were knocked out of bed and dishes were broken in Holyoke, Mass., where the tremor began at 12:41 a.m., and continued for two minutes.

Occupants of a large Manhattan apartment house, thinking New York was under an enemy attack, conducted an air raid drill.

the American army definitely has "arrived" among the elite of the world's great military forces. Even the Russians in their brilliant campaigns since Stalingrad have never won so complete, decisive and workmanlike a triumph so quickly.

Will Change Opinions

The ultimate effect of this outstanding performance of America's armies is likely to be very great. Heretofore European military thinkers, accustomed to dealing with vast standing armies and general staff organizations that have studied war for centuries, have been inclined to catalogue American soldiers and generals as brave and brilliant amateurs.

Because of this habit of thought, Germany's Gen. Ludendorff in 1917 figured that America could not train soldiers quickly enough to effect the outcome of World War One.

His error probably cost the Kaiser victory in 1918, but still the old mode of thinking prevailed. After the demonstration Gen. Eisenhower's men have given, however, America's potential military might probably never again will be underestimated. Americans are the most peace-loving people in the world, but when they make up their minds to fight, they learn the soldier's trade with a speed that drives the slower-thinking European peoples dizzy.

Statements and opinions herein are private to the writer and are not to be construed as reflecting the views of the navy department.

German shall give him information, no German shall help him in any way. Every path shall be destroyed, every street blockaded and only death and hatred shall meet him.

"The enemy intends to send the German people to Siberia. Africa, Australia and Alaska to break the Germans' physical strength. The 30 years' war against Germany will end with death in slavery if hard fists at home don't help us."

Admits Probable Defeat

Admitting the possibility of the defeat of the German army on the soil of the Reich, Suendermann said: "If the army is repulsed on German soil there would be no village, house, field or hill where the aggressor would not meet a thousand-fold resistance."

"We don't want victory to annihilate the British people or to conquer America; we must win victory so as to be able to live."

Whether or not the Germans will heed the appeal remains to be seen. But it is now clear that the Nazi leadership has decided on a fight to the finish rather than yield to the Allied demand for unconditional surrender.

French troops that captured Ville France north of Lyon rounded up 2,400 Nazi prisoners.

Relieve that Tormenting PIN-WORM ITCH

Too Embarrassing
to Talk About!

It is no longer necessary to put up with the trouble caused by Pin-Worms. Don't let your child or yourself suffer that tormenting, embarrassing itching, or take chances by the internal distress.

Medical science has now discovered a new and highly effective way to deal with this stubborn and troublesome infection. This important scientific discovery is a remarkable drug known as gentian violet.

It is the vital element in P.W., the new Pin-Worm treatment, developed by the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son, America's leading specialists in worm medicines.

P.W. tablets are small and easy to take, and they act in a special way to destroy the ugly creatures.

Watch for the warning signs: itching nose and seat, uneasy stomach, bed-wetting, uneven appetite. Remember the now there is a treatment that works on Pin-Worms as no old-fashioned "worm syrup" or "worm candy" could. So if you even suspect Pin-Worms, get a box of P.W. right away, and follow the directions carefully. P.W. means Pin-Worm relief!

Parents Should Advise Children As To Safety

stated that, inasmuch as school begins tomorrow and thousands of children must spend their way to and from school several times a day it is the duty of all parents to warn their children to not dash from sidewalks into the cartway and to obey all traffic regulations.

"There were no school children injured last year and it is hoped the same situation will exist this year," the mayor stated.

Mayor Haven also warned motorists that "watchmen on duty at the schools have the power of police officers and their efforts to protect children will be backed wholeheartedly."

KELLY-CUNNINGHAM WEDDING TODAY

This morning, Sept. 5, at 11 o'clock, Miss Madge L. Kelly, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Long, Pittsburgh, became the bride of Herbert G. Cunningham, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Shaffer, McClelland avenue, this city, at a quiet but impressive ceremony which took place in the home of the bridegroom's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Windl, Walmo.

The home was beautifully decorated with a profusion of flowers for the occasion, and the bride and groom stood before an improvised altar formed with seasonal flowers intermingled with evergreens and set off in the glow of lighted cathedral candles. Rev. Fr. C. Streiff of St. Joseph's church officiated in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride, given in marriage by Mr. Windl, was attractive in a street length dress of pastel orchid, crepe with white accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of white orchids. She had as matron of honor her sister, Mrs. Frank Stearn, of Pittsburgh, who was attired in navy blue crepe, and white accompaniments, while as bridesmaid Mrs. J. E. Windl wore a poudre blue street length dress and white accompaniments. Their identical shoulder corsages were made up of American Beauty roses.

Mr. Windl served the bridegroom as best man. Immediately following the congratulatory period a wedding breakfast was served the bride and groom and their families at The Castleton. Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham left afterwards on a short trip, and will return here to take up residence, where he is employed at the Lockley Machine Shop.

What Of Hitler?

Political writers in most countries, Germany excepted, are engaged in speculating what will happen to Hitler. Correspondents, news writers and commentators have succumbed to the urge to predict the end of der fuhrer.

Their guesses include all popular possibilities. Emil Ludwig, the ex-German historian, believes that Hitler will be killed by the Junkers unless the German people beat them to the draw. Others predict that he will commit Nazi hara-kiri. Another prediction frequently made is that he will be captured by the Allies, tried and either executed or imprisoned as was Napoleon on Saint Helena.

As the Austrian corporal has a strong urge to play to the grandstand, he may end his career in a spectacular manner. One guess is that he might fly to some foreign country, England, the United States, Russia or China. Many guess that he will take refuge in Argentina and a few suggest Spain, Sweden and Switzerland also are mentioned. Disguised, Hitler might disappear and create a nine-day or nine-year mystery.

Few guess that his ending will be commonplace. No one believes that he will come to the end of his days in front line of a battle.

Robot Bomb Has Limits

Americans received reassurances on the German threat to bomb the U. S. with the new robot bomb from Major Alexander P. de Seversky, author of "Victory Through Air Power," and leading aeronautical commentator who declares that the robot bomb has limiting factors.

"Its accuracy necessarily diminishes with distance. As a free-moving projectile, it can pick out a target as enormous as London, of course. But at long distances an infinitesimal error at the starting point means a substantial deviation at the finish line, and also, no matter how scientifically the course is set, atmospheric disturbances must divert the aim," he writes in the American Mercury.

"The alternative would be to control the movement of the flying bomb by radio," says Major Seversky. "But that is easily countered by the defender's electronic devices. In this war, various efforts have been made to use robot tanks and ships guided by radio. They have failed invariably. The basic flaw in all such devices is that electronic control diminishes in power, roughly, by the square of the distance. When the missile nears the target it takes a lot of power to keep it on its course, very little to deflect it."

The history of automatic devices thus far has proved that there is no adequate substitute for the human mind, he concludes. "Until some entirely new principle of sending death and destruction through space is devised—some 'death ray' let us say—war will be won not by robot devices but by men in airplanes. Wherever a robot competes with a machine under human control, the latter ultimately wins out. We need only compare the haphazard bombardment of London by robots with the precision bombing of Berlin to get the measure of this contrast."

Needless to say, however, Britain was breathing easier as its armies made great strides along the robot bomb coast, threatening the Germans in the pocket and destined soon to eliminate the Calais-Dieppe district as a threat to England.

Wodehouse Is So Sorry Now

P. G. Wodehouse, once-popular English funny man but a bad actor in this war, has been found living in luxury in a Paris hotel and is now trying to talk himself out of a serious predicament. His voluble explanations of his double-dealing won't wash. His inventive genius will have to devise a better story. It isn't even amusing.

Caught by the Germans at his French villa in 1940, P. G. spent a short time in internment camps. He was treated so well that he wanted to tell the world what good fellows the Germans were and so was "allowed" to make a series of broadcasts from Berlin. He now realizes that it was a "terrible mistake." In fact he must have realized it long ago, when the British government put him on the blacklist of turncoats to be dealt with later.

When the hospitable Germans put him up at the finest hotel in Berlin, with their government paying all his expenses, Wodehouse remarked that he was unable to work up any belligerent feeling since he had met "so many nice fellows" there. His fellow countrymen, who had seen their homes destroyed and their loved ones slaughtered by bombs from the air, were unable to share his kindly views of the ruthless foe.

Last year, for services rendered, Wodehouse was permitted to go to Paris, where he was reported to be "playing a prominent part in the social life" of the Nazi-infested capital. Now that his German friends have fled, he protests that he meant no harm to the Allies with his blatant, pro-Nazi propaganda. It was all just good, clean fun.

He may expect to find the British as unable as we are to see the joke. Foreign Secretary Eden once told the House of Commons that the government would attend to Mr. Wodehouse when the time came. It seems to be pretty near.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Hitler hanged eight generals but his biggest one got away—General Deblitz.

In putting out peace feelers, Germany is going to find that Uncle Sam is singularly unfeeling.

It was hot enough the other day to fry an egg on the sidewalk but we don't like ours cooked that way.

Keeping reporters away from the Dumbarton Oaks conference means that the rumor factory will have to work overtime.

If Japan has any doubt about the purpose of Uncle Sam's 100 carriers in the Pacific, it can be informed that they carry bad news.

The bureaucrats have put ham back on the list of rationed food. They haven't gone far enough. Ham on the radio ought to cost 100 points a pound.

We have the Wacs, the Waves, and the Spars. And when they organize a female secret service we presume it will be called the Daisies, because Daisies don't tell.

According to the press 73,500,000 leaflets are dropped over Europe every month by Allied flyers, which leads our office boy to remark that no wonder there is a paper shortage.

Travelers are to be quizzed by the railroads as to the kind of Pullman car improvements they would like after the war. Our suggestion is some little gadget to eliminate snoring.

Washington Calling

By MARQUIS CHILDS

Germans To Feel Deep Retribution

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—The horror of the Lublin murder factory and Lt. Gen. Kurt Dittmar's appeal for compromise peace terms are surely related. It's quite possible that the mouthpiece of the high command was in reality appealing for some abatement of the punishment that every German must now know is at hand.

Failure to destroy the gas chambers, the furnaces, the great hoards of clothing from the executed, was a major Nazi blunder. Possibly the Russians didn't give them time. If the Nazis are as diabolically clever as their own propaganda would have it, then preparations should have been ready for almost instant demolition of the instrument of what may go down as the greatest crime in human history.

But, no, there it was, almost intact. Trustworthy American correspondents with no propaganda purpose to serve were so revolted by what they saw that they could not keep out of their news dispatches the fury and the shock they felt.

Deep Retribution

Informed Germans at the top know that the retribution for this will go very deep. They counted in 1918 on a soft peace. They counted on the Christian ethic of the Anglo-Saxon nations.

That same hope must be a last drawn straw this time as the end draws near. A year and half ago German propaganda was aimed at splitting off the British and Americans from the Russians. Berlin cherished the illusion, there is good reason to believe, that if Britain and America could come in first, the chances were better for escaping full retribution.

Any such avenue of escape is now closed. The justice of the Soviets, as they move in from the east, will be rough and thorough. They have felt the full terror of Nazi frightfulness on their own soil.

The robot bombs killed any last remaining hope for clemency from the west—if ever the two allies had desired, or had considered it possible, to restrain the third member of the European team. In London Sir Cecil Hurst, chairman of the United Nations War Crimes Commission, said that the list of war criminals is already a long one. It includes those guilty of massacres, of shooting hostages, of atrocities beyond description.

Know Their Guilt

The guilty know their guilt. In that photograph of the bag of high-ranking German officers taken in the hotel Majestic in Paris, they had the look of a lot of turkey buzzards caught near the carcass they had thought to feed off of.

But the guilt goes deeper. When I was in Sweden last year, I was told it had begun to seep into the consciousness of the entire German people.

So carefully had the horrors of Poland been kept from them, that when they heard rumors of it via the British and Russian radio, they refused to believe it. It wasn't possible, the solid burghers back home said to each other. Germans could not do such things.

Then, as their own boys came back from the eastern front, they began to get the truth. They had believed it then, for it came from their own men who had seen these terrible things—who had taken part in them. Some of those boys killed themselves in an aftermath of revulsion and remorse. There was something like a wave of suicides of men back from the eastern front.

The solid burgher knows now that he cannot escape the consequences of the horrors committed in his name. He is filled with a kind of blank despair, a despair weighted with gloom and apathy.

This broken captive of the Nazis knows that General Dittmar's appeal is wasted breath. He knows his fate is sealed. It was sealed in the furnaces of Lublin in the most terrible crime in history.

LOST OPPORTUNITIES

Good judgment whispered: Save it all.

Tomorrow it may be From dawn to dusk the rain may fall.

And larger want you'll see.

That gift your heart would like to make,

Forget it, and be wise!

Beyond what's done for friendship's sake

The need of old age lies.

But now, the friend my gift had cheered

Beyond my reach has passed;

So much the future dark I feared,

I held my coins too fast.

And there they are, piled safe and high,

And clear the weather stays.

Too late! Not all their power can buy

The lost, good yesterdays!

Bible Thought

But when he saw the wind

boisterous, he was afraid; and beginning to sink, he cried, saying

Lord, save me. Matthew 14:30.

Hints On Etiquette

It is rude to whisper to one person

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 7:28. Sun rises tomorrow 6:29.

We heard a bird say "In the daytime I am too busy to worry and at night I am too sleepy."

Flattery is the art of making others believe you are interested in them, when in reality they make you weary.

Many a time we start out in the morning with good intentions and by noon we are limping a bit.

The meanest trick is to unjustly abuse a worthy man.

If a man really loves a woman he will not smoke for her, but if she really loves him she will not ask him to.

THE SOLDIER VOTE

Statistics compiled from the records of state secretaries and state election boards based on the number of applications from men and women in service outside the United States who requested forms for absentee ballots show that out of the eleven million men and women in uniform, perhaps less than two million, one hundred and eighty thousand will cast a ballot for president in the November election. . . . 2,108,000 out of 11,000,000.

It is well to remember that many of the eleven million are not yet of legal voting age and those who have just passed legal voting age . . . many were underage at the last state registration date and are therefore not registered voters.

So, a light soldier vote does not mean indifference to the election. It means that many are not familiar with the proper methods and regulations for casting an absentee ballot.

Love is a game in which both parties bluff and cheat.

Some folks not only count their chickens before they are hatched, but also spend in advance the price of the prospective eggs they are to lay.

Anyway we hope the government price fixers in Washington fix it so we can get the price to keep on buying what we need.

There is no limit to the age at which a man can make a fool of himself over a woman.

Some modern husbands are always in bed by midnight and others sit up until their wives come home.

The U. S. A. is indeed fortunate that none of our field generals or naval commanders are inclined to play politics or have a penchant for swashbuckling.

It is beginning to be an established fact that the very men who find themselves on the horns of a dilemma don't even know dilemmas had horns.

How pleasant the world would be if only the righteous were as kind as the simple and good.

The Dewey Attack To Be Uncovered

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5. NEXT THURSDAY in Philadelphia Mr. Dewey will make the opening speech of his campaign—the first since he accepted the Presidential nomination in Chicago. Upon this speech and the two scheduled to follow depends, in great measure, his political future. Either his campaign will be energized and lifted up or it will go down.

REGULAR Republicans, anti-New Deal Democrats, anti-fourth-termers and anti-CIOers all appreciate the importance of these Dewey utterances and understand that they will mark the pivotal point in the 1944 struggle. So do the managers of the fourth-term effort. Up to date, Governor Dewey has made no breaks. His speech of acceptance was adequate. Such statements as he has made since have been thoughtful and effective. He has not made the mistake of talking too soon or too much and he is in better position than was Mr. Wilkie at the same stage in 1940. There is behind him a more united and enthusiastic party organization, a more efficient headquarters and greater confidence all down the party line.

REPUBLICAN politicians generally are encouraged by the most recent Gallup poll. Though it shows Roosevelt leading with 286 electoral votes to Dewey's 245, on both sides this is recognized not as a forecast but as a reflection of the situation as it existed in the middle of August. It is the trend, the swing, the change from now on that is important. There also is the fact that in many States the poll percentage is so slight as to make it unsafe to count them as sure for either candidate—particularly when, in even the best of polls, there is a 3-to-4 point margin of possible error. In midsummer 1940, this poll gave Wilkie 234, Roosevelt 247. Later it showed the Roosevelt swing and Roosevelt won 449 to 82.

THE SHIFT in the next month can be either way, but what stimulates the Dewey side is knowledge that the trend for three years, as shown in the Congressional election of the past 20 months, has been strongly Republican—and the conviction that it is unchanged. If, beginning September 7, Mr. Dewey does not accelerate this trend there will be deep disappointment in the ranks behind him. He met the acceptance speech test without trouble, but these opening speeches are even more critical. He might have recovered from an inadequate speech at Chicago, but there will not be time to recover from a poor performance now.

HIS FRIENDS are confident he will not make one. Certainly, he has had ample time for preparation. Either he has it in him to ring the bell or he hasn't. The report that, having pretty well taken the issue of our future foreign policy out of the campaign by his clear advocacy of an international organization, backed by force, to maintain peace in the world, Governor Dewey is free to attack Mr. Roosevelt not only for wasteful, inefficient and undignified conduct of domestic affairs but on his past record in the foreign field—without leaving room for the accusation that he is lessening national unity in dealing with the problems of the peace or impeding the conduct of the war.

IF GOVERNOR DEWEY has the goods he is in a pretty fine position, because he certainly has a vulnerable target. Aside from indictment of the New Deal and exposure of Administration incompetence, there are the phroness of both the third and fourth term "draft," the manner in which Mr. Roosevelt is using the title of Commander in Chief to promote his candidacy; the menacing White House alliance with Mr. Hillman, the Communist CIO, and the Communist groups, organized and unorganized, without whose money and support his chances of reelection would be slight, despite the great voting strength of the Federal jobholders and the big city bosses.

THESE ARE THE things Mr. Dewey is expected to deal with in his coming utterances. The President has announced that on September 23 he will make his "first political speech," but the Administration reply to the Dewey attack will be made before that and no one thinks Mr. Roosevelt now intends to make a direct reply. The Roosevelt idea is to delegate that job to subordinates. It is said, however, that Mr. Dewey does not propose to let him get by with the supercilious aloofness by which he was enabled to ignore his opponent last time, go through his campaign without mentioning his name, and live on a plane so lofty as to be beyond reach. If after he makes his attack Mr. Roosevelt puts up Mr. Ickes or some other Cabinet member or some New Deal Senator, Governor Dewey, it is said, will have these dealt with by a Republican Governor or Senator or member of Congress and proceed to re-assert his direct attack on the President. In the end it is contended, he will force Mr. Roosevelt to come off his high perch. And that, aside from the political effect, will be good thing. For his success in keeping on this self-erected pinnacle seems to have given Mr. Roosevelt the notion that he is considerably more than man-size.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Vera, my secretary, became engaged last night. When I came to the office this morning, she was very quiet and very sad. I could see there was something wrong.

"What's the matter?" I asked. "You look as if you lost your last friend?"

"I became engaged last night," she said, and there were tears in her eyes. "They didn't roll down her cheeks. They just stayed there and made her eyes look very shiny—and wet."

"Good gosh," I said. "If you became engaged, you ought to look happy and full of pep."

And then Vera told me about her engagement. I guess there is a lot of that sort of thing going on these days—that's why I'm telling you about it.

About nine o'clock the phone rang. "California calling," said the operator.

Somewhere from California her sweetheart was calling to tell her that he had received his orders to be ready for immediate shipment.

"Pacific theater, that's all I know," he said. "And I may not be back for a long while, if ever."

Vera tried to be brave. She loves her captain, a pilot in the U. S. Air Force.

"Well, good luck to you, and I hope you'll get back safe."

From the West Coast came a rather shaky, "Well, goodbye, Vera, darling"—and then like the postscript of a letter: "Will you marry me dear when I get back?"

She had just about time to say, "Yes," when the operator broke in with "Your five minutes are up. Will you finish your call, please?"

That was all. So this morning Vera is engaged, while her fiancé is in a plane somewhere over the Pacific, to help make the world safe for lovers and for home and children and, incidentally, for democracy.

It seems to me that this little incident explains the whole business of war so much better than all the grandiloquent speeches and the mouthings of professional patriots and politicians.

When Vera told me about last night, I felt awfully sorry for the kid. Such anxiety, such a long wait, such torture.

But Vera said: "I guess I shouldn't feel so sad. After all, I'm only one in millions. And at least I have hope and faith that he'll come back to me."

"But look at all the mothers and wives and sweethearts whose men will never come back. It's selfish to think about yourself at a time like this, isn't it?"

And Vera smiled—and tonight and every following night Vera will pray for her captain's safe return.

I know her prayers will be answered.

The World and the Mud Puddles

REAPING THE WHIRLWIND

Poland and East Prussia for several weeks have been the starting points of a gigantic trek of Germans following the trail back to the Fatherland. When Hitler invaded Poland, his agents slaughtered thousands of Jews and Poles and seized their possessions. Others were spared to perform slave labor or produce food for the armies. But nearly all were evicted from their homes and little farms. To faithful Nazis he gave this stolen property, installing them as residents and permanent colonizers of what was to be added German territory. Now, with Russia overwhelming Poland, and the Red armies heading steadily towards Germany, so these beneficiaries of Hitler's piracy are undergoing self-eviction; they are turning back to Germany for a refuge from Russian vengeance and the wrath of remaining liberated Poles.

But this migration is not alone a trek of poor and homeless, as often pictured in the news of Hitler's devastating raids, lugging a few precious possessions and herding a goat and a few fowls. Along with these disillusioned masses are some of the former lords of Germany. The rich who gave their money to further the Nazi cause in its days of early power also received their reward. Scores of them were awarded magnificent homes, castles and feudal holdings in East Prussia. With what they already possessed, they lived on a grand scale, lives of luxury and leisure, with captives for slaves and servants. When Allied bombers began their devastating raids on western Germany, these favorites of fortune congratulated themselves on their immunity. But the relentless driving force of Stalin's armies brought the skeleton of fear.

CHILD RESENTFUL OF HELP

"Dear Dr. Myers—I am the mother of a 6-year-old daughter. She is doing well in school receiving all A's on her report card. But my problem is that she thinks she's always right."

"Yesterday she had a few sentences to write for school homework. Upon examining her work, I found she didn't start some of the sentences with capital letters. I explained that she should and changed the letter to a capital in one instance. She doubted my word and said she thought I was wrong."

"I let matter drop and today I glanced at the paper and found she had erased my correction, and made the capital a small letter again; therefore she made it wrong. Upon questioning her, she says she thought I was wrong. Then she changed it back to a capital. She does this in many things. When I

"Guess My Age!"

New Kind of Face Powder Makes Her Look Years Younger!

ONCE this lovely girl looked quite a bit older. Some people actually thought she was rapidly approaching middle age...

For she was the innocent victim of an unflattering face powder! It was such an unkind powder—treacherous and sly. It showed up every tiny line in her face—accented every little skin fault—even seemed to exaggerate the size of her pores.

But look at her now! Can you guess her age? Would you say she is 20-30-35?

At last she has found a face powder that really flatters her skin—makes it look younger and more enchanting!

Why Lady Esther Face Powder Is So Flattering

Lady Esther Face Powder is extra flattering because it's made differently. It isn't just mixed, just sifted, in the usual way. It's blown by Twin Hurricanes—blended with the speed and power of hurricanes—to look clearer, smoother and more flattering on your skin!

Because of this patented, exclusive method of hurricane blending, the texture of Lady Esther Face Powder is much smoother and finer than ordinary powder. The first touch of your puff spreads a delicate film of beauty on your skin, hiding little lines, little blemishes. And Lady Esther Face Powder clings longer, too—clings four long hours!

But the most exciting difference is in the shades. Lady Esther shades have a subtle new quality—because the color is blown in by hurricanes. Many women say that the Lady Esther shades are so fresh and alive that ordinary powder shades seem dull and drab by comparison.

Living Proof—
In Your Own Mirror!

Just try Lady Esther Face Powder! Try it on one side of your face—and on the other, apply your usual make-up. Then compare—for looks, for texture, for shade! Does Lady Esther Face Powder make your skin look smoother, younger? YOU be the judge! No matter what you paid for your present face powder—even if you paid $10.00 or more—you'll find that Lady Esther Face Powder makes you look more beautiful!

Allied Bombers Hit Robot Bases

LONDON, Sept. 5.—(INS)—The longest stream of Allied bombers seen in weeks crossed the southeast coast of England today headed for the Pas de Calais area of northern France, presumably to attack remaining German flying bomb sites still in enemy hands.

R.A.F. Mosquito planes attacked Kassel in southwestern Germany during the night and the British Press Association speculated that the raid might be connected with the advance of Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton Jr.'s U. S. Third Army. It was pointed out that the raid might be the beginning of a softening up campaign, in addition to any other object it might have had.

(The German domestic radio network warned this morning that a bomber formation was over north-west Germany and said another formation previously reported over southwest Germany was moving towards the west. The FCC heard the broadcast.)

No Crowds Jam Week-End Trains

Holiday or no holiday, not a great many persons from this town took advantage of the "last fling before fall" to go traveling.

Whether it was because of patriotism or because the recent cool weather had decreased enthusiasm for lakeshore vacations, local railroad and bus stations report only a slight increase over the usual week-end travel. No matter how things were around the larger cities, there were no standing-room-only conditions on the coaches that pulled out of New Castle stations.

Even on Sunday and on Monday evening, when the traffic was heaviest, there were no crowds to compare with those of the Fourth of July, or even Memorial day. Perhaps the government requests are being observed after all.

The thriving youngster, named Emily Dawes Steele, has gained a pound since her birth at the exclusive Richardson House.

Wed six years ago amid nationwide comment, the Steeles termed their marriage "an experiment in sociology" and frankly discussed their love, philosophy and future plans.

No Turkey Shortage Is Seen This Year

Packers, however, were warned to get containers as soon as possible because of a shortage of container material which the poultry must be packed in.

Expecting a Baby?
Mother's Friend helps bring ease and comfort to expectant mothers.
MOTHER'S FRIEND, an exquisitely prepared emollient, is useful in all conditions where a bland, mild anodyne massage medium in skin lubrication is desired. One condition in which women for more than 70 years have used it is an application for massaging the body during pregnancy. It helps keep the skin soft and pliable. Without causing unnecessary discomfort due to dryness and tightness. It refreshes and tones the skin. An ideal massage application for the numb, tingling or burning sensations of the skin. For the tired back muscles or cramp-like pains in the legs quickly absorbed. Delightful to use.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

let her find out for herself that she was wrong she will say, 'Yes, I was wrong; you are always right.' She seems to resent my being right. "Sometimes I will tell her, 'Be careful, you will spill your milk doing that.' 'No, I won't,' is her reply and no sooner said than she spills the milk. I certainly would appreciate any advice you offer. A self-addressed envelope is enclosed."

Mother Created Problem

In answering this mother I tried to help her see I could understand how eager she is to help her child but that, unaware, she has herself created the kind of problems she describes.

In the first place, since this child earns high grades at school, why should the mother bother about checking over her work, unless the child requested her to do so? One simple fact from which 32 years' experience I have slowly learned from my wife, is that a person is annoyed when some one helps him when he doesn't wish help or criticizes his way of doing things when he is sure he is doing right. This is peculiarly true as applied to a spouse or child.

Patience Needed

Right now a two-year-old granddaughter of mine is going through the stage of learning to dress herself. She violently objects to any help until she discovers she just can't do what she supposed she could. Fortunately her mother and grandmother patiently let her learn, and spend an enormous amount of time at it. I doubt whether I could be so patient, yet I know my way is right and will bring large dividends later. Already this little tyke can dress herself practically alone, even to lacing her shoes.

As I wrote the mother, she should have said no more after her child refused to take her suggestion about the capital letter nor should she have changed that letter. Had the mother not tried to force her ways on the child the youngster gradually would have accepted her suggestions, even asked for them. Think of all the needless heated arguments between parent and child, especially if the parent is a teacher or extra-teacher, over ways of doing homework.

But the case of the milk was different. Rights of others were involved. Instead of starting an argument, since the mother knew the dangers involved, she should have commanded the child to stop playing with the glass of milk and if she did not stop it at once, have punished her effectively, whether she dropped it or not.

to their feasting. Bombs from Soviet planes began falling over East Prussia. Westward the march of the Red hordes pressed on. They reached the gates of East Prussia. The holiday is over and the race for salvation is on.

But there is no salvation ahead. The choice is now between the frying pan and the fire. Russia threatens from the East. But Allied planes by the thousands still swarm over the West. The march proceeds from Paris; from Paris it will proceed to Berlin. The receivers of stolen property, mass and class alike, are reaping retribution; they are undergoing the tragic experience of the thousands of evictees whose substance they briefly enjoyed.

The wheel of fortune has turned. And the deluded beneficiaries of Hitler's plundering are experiencing the meaning of the meaning of that ancient word of scripture, "They that live by the sword shall perish by the sword."

What People Say

ROME—Pope Pius XII: "The hands of the clock of history are pointing to a new epoch, both great and decisive for mankind. Another world is being born."

WASHINGTON—Acting WPB Chairman J. A. Krug: "We have to maintain war production at the level needed as long as it is needed and have to continue to hammer at the few programs behind needs."

DETROIT—R. J. Thomas, president of the UAW-CIO: "While I love my union, I also love my country. If people who are staging unauthorized strikes would go over into the war zone and see the necessity of remaining at work, they, too, would abide by the non-strike pledge."

LOS ANGELES—Vivian Kellens, Westport, Conn., industrialist: "As it stands now, when the government cancels contracts, many employers will have to start letting employees go. I happen to know that some of the big airplane companies have been taxed so heavily that they can operate only two weeks after the war and their capital will be gone."

ROSE POINT

Lester Stoner, who is a patient at the Jackson Memorial hospital, is recovering nicely. Mr. Stoner sustained serious injuries when he fell from a roof while at work two weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jones have moved from the Minter property to the residence of Isabelle Kildoo, near Portersville.

Rev. and Mrs. Melville Martin have returned home after spending three weeks with relatives and friends at Sterling and Topeka, Kas.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Knight and son Kenny spent the week-end at Conneaut Lake.

"IT'S THE BUSIEST CAR IN POLK COUNTY..."

"Sure glad I've got a FORD!"

says WILBUR T. HILDRETH, Farmer
Elkhart, Iowa

Forty years of reliability, stamina and low-cost operation have made Ford cars the choice of millions. Letters from Ford owners in cities and towns and in the country tell how well their cars are standing up. And almost always, the owner gets a big share of credit for the economy and reliability of the car to his friendly Ford dealer, whose careful Protective Service contributes so much to maintaining America's transportation.

NEWS NOTES—In the Ford main powerhouse at the Rouge plant, the largest of its kind, coal is the principal fuel. But there is only one scoop-shovel in the entire building and it is chrome-plated and kept as a relic. Nowadays the coal is pulverized, blown into the boilers like gas.

More than 30,000,000 Ford, Mercury and Lincoln cars—and Ford trucks—have been built.

Wac Cooks Please General And Staff

LONDON—(INS)—Cooking for generals is yet another job added to the long list of Wac accomplishments in this theater.

When 600 Wacs took over a mess hall, formerly operated for and by male personnel, they inherited at the same time a general's mess.

The general and his staff are served exactly the same meal that the Wacs eat. The Wacs prepare the food, and it is served in a small private dining room off the Wac mess hall, by the general's own waiters.

The Wac cooks were a trifle apprehensive about cooking for a general. But when the first meal of roast beef and brown gravy, boiled potatoes, mixed tomatoes, peas and corn, cabbage, pineapple salad, chocolate pudding and coffee, was eaten with every sign of enjoyment by general and Wacs alike, any qualms they may have had vanished.

It may have been that (as the former G. I. cooks said) "generals are easier to please than second lieutenants," but quite possibly it was the general excellence of the Wac cooked meal that made the experiment such a success.

Wac mess sergeant is Constance G. Delahoyde of 139 Westminster road, Rochester, N. Y. She formerly was dietetic supervisor at Federal hospital, Bath, Me.

First cook is Sgt. Omie Heath of Augusta, Ga.

Pvt. Charles Conner In Deshon Hospital

Local Soldier, Who Had Gallant Record In North Africa, Arrives By Plane

Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Conner of 422 Fairmont avenue were at Deshon hospital Sunday visiting their son, Pfc. Charles C. Conner, who arrived there Saturday afternoon. He is recovering nicely from the effects of a compound fracture of the leg, received while taking part in a training game in England on May 23, just a few days before the invasion.

Previously he had been wounded while serving in North Africa with the 16th infantry, when he charged a German machine gun which was holding up the advance of his comrades. He received the silver star for this exploit.

The trip from England was made in a big hospital transport plane, and after staying at New York for a short time, he was brought on to Pittsburgh, from whence he was taken to Deshon by ambulance. He expects to be able to come home on leave in a few days.

Five Tornadoes, Not Just One, Hit District June 23

All Five Tornadoes, Says Weatherman, Moved In Nearly Parallel Paths

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Meteorologist William S. Brotzman of the Pittsburgh weather bureau disclosed today that five tornadoes, and not just one, struck Western Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Maryland June 23, bringing death to 153 persons and property damage amounting to $5,000,000.

All five moved in nearly parallel paths, he explained, from northwest to southeast, about 35 miles apart, flattening everything in a 500-1,000 foot path. The four major tornadoes occurred simultaneously with the fifth two hours later, he said.

The major damage and loss of life occurred at Shinnston, Fleming, Meadoville, Montrose and Thomas, W. Va.; Oakland, Md. and Chartiers, McKeesport and Smithfield, Pa. These were the sizeable towns in the tornadoes' paths. In West Virginia 103 persons were killed; 45 in Pennsylvania and five in Maryland.

Federal Operation Of Mines Likely To Be Indefinite

By PHILLIPS J. PECK (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Indefinite federal operation of more than 100 key coal mines appeared today to be the only solution to strikes called or threatened by the United Mine Workers' supervisory union.

With 18 mines in western Pennsylvania already seized by the government, C. J. Potter, deputy solid fuels administrator, announced that other properties will be taken over as quickly as production is halted by walkouts of mine foremen.

"If the strikes occur, the only thing left to do is to take over the mines," he said. "We've agreed with the War Labor Board to do that."

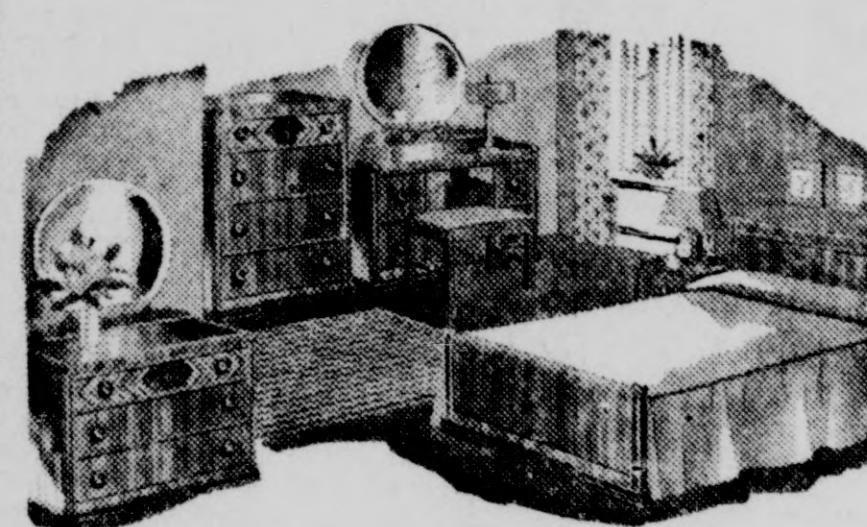

Strike ballots were scheduled in 13 mines in West Virginia and two in Kentucky today; in 14 additional mines in West Virginia tomorrow, and in 11 in the same state on Thursday. Ten mines in Pennsylvania voted Saturday, but these have not yet been seized.

It was understood that the union also has filed strike notices with the National Labor Relations Board in 30 more mines, but will have to wait a month before balloting. The union, a branch of the UMW's District 50 reportedly has organized only about 100 key mines out of several thousand in the country.

Powerful U.S. Task Force To Hit Japs Again

By RICHARD V. HALLER
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PEARL HARBOR, Sept. 5.—A powerful United States carrier task force threatened further smashes against Japanese island defenses today after executing a devastating three-day raid on the Volcano and Bonin Groups at the southern approaches to the enemy homeland, which left destroyed or damaged 21 Jap ships and barges and 85 Jap aircraft.

Pacific fleet headquarters, in disclosing the raid, revealed that 13 enemy vessels were definitely sunk. They were: five small cargo ships, one landing barge, one small tanker and six barges. One cargo ship and three sub chasers were probably sunk and three sub chasers and a Sampan were damaged.

Targets for the assault by the carrier force were Iwo Jima, in the Volcanos, about 750 miles south of Tokyo, and Chichi Jima and Haha Jima, in the Bonins, about 650 miles south of Tokyo.

The raids included sweeping carrier-based aircraft strikes in which 196 tons of explosives were unloaded and 490 rockets launched, and were executed August 30, 31, and September 1.

American cruisers and destroyers joined in the attack on Chichi Jima and Iwo Jima on August 31 and September 1.

Not a single American vessel was damaged. Losses in aerial operations were five planes and four men.

Pacific fleet headquarters also announced that on September 3, U. S. cruisers and destroyers bombarded Wake Island, causing extensive damage in the harbor and shooting up three small craft.

The carrier strikes and warship bombardments caused extensive damage to Jap installations in the Bonins and Volcanos. Several gun emplacements were destroyed and hangars, fuel dumps, shops and warehouses were severely damaged.

The Jap seaplane base at Chichi Jima was demolished.

Seventh Army Air Force Liberators followed up the strikes against Iwo Jima, dropping 95 tons of bombs on airfield facilities and wading off an attempt by a single Jap plane to drop phosphorus bombs on the raiding formations.

Meanwhile, other American planes carried out their daily round of attacks from Paramushiro in the far Kuriles of the northern Pacific to the Marshalls in the central Pacific.

Other raids from Thursday to Saturday, included two heavy smashes at Pagan, Rota and Maug Islands in the Marianas.

Nevada Voters At Polls Today

RENO, Nev., Sept. 5.—(INS)—A light vote was forecast today as Nevada voters went to the polls to nominate candidates for seats in the U. S. senate and house of representatives.

Only 20,000 of the state's 56,816 registered voters were expected to cast ballots. Closest attention was paid to the bitter fight between Pat McCarran, (D), incumbent and Democratic nomination for senator. Candidates for the Republican nomination were State Senator Kenneth F. Johnson of Carson City, Kendrick A. Johnson, Reno attorney and George W. Malone, an unsuccessful candidate in 1934.

Rex Bell, of Searchlight, former movie actor and husband of Clara Bow, was opposed for the Republican congressional nomination.

B. J. Thomas Dies In Alhambra, Calif.

Word has been received here by Mrs. George Marshall of 421 East Reynolds street of the death of her uncle, Benjamin J. Thomas of Alhambra, Calif., on August 26. Deceased is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lizzie Hughes Thomas; a daughter, Mrs. Thomas Evans; two grandsons and one great-grandson, all of Alhambra.

The late Mr. Thomas was a former resident of this city, a former mill worker, and proprietor of a shoe and dry goods store on East Long avenue for many years before leaving to reside in Youngstown and later in Alhambra.

Mr. Thomas was a charter member of the First Congregational church of this city.

MAY COMMUTE SENTENCE
HARRISBURG, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Gov. Edward Martin approved today the state pardon board's recommendation for commutation of a maximum 36 year sentence imposed in 1930 on Samuel B. (Red) Crane, of Harrisburg, one time infidel for the Philadelphia Athletics, who was found guilty of slaying Della Lyster and Jack Oren in a Harrisburg saloon 15 years ago.

Warns That Huge Loss Is Certain On Surplus Goods

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Rep. Carter Manasco (D, Ala.) warned today that "we will do well to get back 15 billions out of 105 billion dollars worth of surplus war property."

Manasco, chairman of the House group in conference on surplus war property disposal legislation, took a pessimistic view of chances to recover any sizable fraction of what war materials and properties cost.

Much equipment is useful for war only Manasco said, pointing out that instance, commercial airlines don't want warplanes because they use too much gasoline, so salvage value of a B-24 bomber he said, a torpedo costs thousands of dollars—it will have no market. Neither will bombs, sights or automatic pilots, he said.

Then Manasco continued, in the field of goods useful for civilian purposes, there is another snag—cries that their sale will "destroy the market, destroy the industry, destroy employment."

"We will have a four-year supply of surgical goods, worth millions and millions of dollars," he said. Before the war we imported 85 per cent of our surgical steel instruments. Now we have our own industry. We are going to do? The dilemma is, he said, whether to sell the goods and destroy the industry, or withhold them, take the loss and save the industry.

Similar dilemmas extend through the whole field of usable supplies.

Yanks Gain Foothold On Moselle River

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WITH LIEUT. GEN. PATTON'S FORCES ON THE MOSELLE RIVER, Sept. 4.—(Delayed)—American troops seized half the burning town of Pont A Mousson on the Moselle river west of the line connecting Metz with Nancy today, establishing a foothold on the left bank of the first major waterway flowing into Adolf Hitler's Reich.

From a vantage-point at Pont A Mousson five miles of Alsace-Lorraine were clearly visible.

Far to the north of this historic little French town, the 80-yard wide Moselle empties into the Rhine at Coblenz.

A lusty battle raged throughout the day before American troops of Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr.'s Third Army secured a substantial grip upon the river bank.

From atop a hill dominating the town, crowned by castle ruins and a church, the Germans throughout the morning and afternoon pumped shells into the main street and into the roads approaching American positions on our side of the river.

At about 4 p. m., lively machine-gun fire broke out on the banks on both sides of Pont A Mousson, reviving fires that had been burning since last night when we shelled the town.

Bridge Blown Up
The main body of Germans, most of them SS troops, slipped across the Moselle at dawn and the last panzers rumbled at 7 a. m., after which a bridge in the center of the town was blown up, causing considerable damage.

This left some scattered groups of Germans in the woods and orchards on this side.

Between 8 and 10 a. m. today, Gen. Patton succeeded in seizing our half of the town in a hot exchange of small-arms and grenade fire.

Before withdrawing, the Germans set fire to the Pont A Mousson college, dating back to the days of the French revolution, on the pretext that FFI troops had cut telephone wires.

The population remained to watch the Yanks plod wearily into vantage positions, but scattered quickly when rifle and machine-gun bursts whipped bullets along the streets.

Enlistment Quota For Navy Raised

More Youths Of Seventeen Can
Now Be Accepted For Service
In U. S. Navy

Many Lawrence county youths of 17 who desire to serve their country as fighting men of the U. S. navy will be encouraged to know that the enlistment quota of the navy has again been raised.

Recruiters at the local office in the post office building are again accepting applications of qualified young men who have passed their 17th birthday, but have not yet observed their 18th birthday.

Consent papers must be presented from the parent or guardian, and must be signed in the presence of and witnessed by the authorized navy recruiter here.

Enlistment must be completed prior to the applicant's 18th birthday, and men approaching that age who wish to serve in the navy are urged to make application to allow time to complete processing. Either a birth or baptismal certificate must also be presented as proof of age.

Two types of enlistment are open. One, for the duration, and two, for regular navy service, under which the man serves until the day before he reaches his 21st birthday.

Men are especially desired for training as radio technicians. Those who qualify will be enlisted at advanced pay as seamen first class, and will be sent to special navy schools at the close of basic training.

The local recruiting office is located in the post office, second floor.

Schools Of State Re-Opening Today

Estimate That More Than 1,500,000 Children Will Enter Class Rooms Today

By JAMES H. SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 5.—(INS)—More than 1,500,000 students returned to classrooms throughout Pennsylvania today as the Department of Public Instruction predicted enrollments would increase 60,000 before the school year ends.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Francis B. Haas renewed his plea to students holding summer-time jobs to return to schools and prepare themselves for keen competition for employment in the post-war era.

Enrollment Lower

Officials expected less than 144,000 first graders—lowest number in recent years—to report for their first taste of school life while high school enrollments were down 18 per cent since 1941. Sixty-one thousand teachers were on hand for the 1944-45 school year.

While the majority of the public schools open today, a small number began classwork in August and a few others will start later this week. The prevalence of approximately 650 cases of infantile paralysis throughout the state delayed the opening of only a few schools, according to the health department.

"We think enrollments will be larger when the 16-year-olds now holding war jobs begin to lose them as the result of the progress of the war," said Carl D. Morenweck, chief of the department's bureau of research.

We pointed out the state law required students to return to schools until their 17th birthday if they quit or lost their jobs.

County Schools Hit

"With the European war going well, it is entirely possible that we may have more students at the end of the school year than at the beginning," he added. "This is very unusual."

Simultaneously, Henry Klonower, director of teacher education and certification, predicted enough teachers will be available to keep schools in operation.

"However," he added, "the situation is still very critical in the one-room rural schools."

He explained that comparatively low salaries and the inability of teachers to find adequate transportation caused a shortage of instructors in county schools.

"The situation is equally critical in the fields of mathematics, science, social studies, health and physical education, business education and vocational subjects," Klonower declared.

Plans are complete for the rally dinner gathering to be held Wednesday evening, Sept. 6, in the Guild room of Trinity Episcopal church, corner of North Mill at Falls street, as a prelude to the opening of church school Sunday, Sept. 10, it was announced today. Dinner will be served at six o'clock. The invitation including all church school children with their parents and all others desiring to be present.

Highlighting the informal program will be Miss Pauline Best, speaker of the evening, who is director of Christian education for the diocese of Erie.

STATE CENSOR RESIGNS

HARRISBURG, Sept. 5.—(INS)—The resignation of John C. Fisher, of Sharon, vice chairman of the state board of censors, was announced today by the department of public instruction. The post paid $4500 annually.

Congress Pushes Postwar Measures

Eager For Election Recess, Congress Debates George and Colmer Bills, And Public Works

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—A congress eager to recess for the fall election campaign waited impatiently today for Senate and House conferees to reach agreement on postwar reconversion legislation.

Conference committees met again today to iron out differences in the House and Senate versions of the George bill for industrial demobilization and the Colmer measure on government surplus property disposal.

Thursday Is Latest

Sen. George (D) Ga. expressed hope that an agreement could be reached this afternoon on his bill and predicted the conferees would have a report ready for the House and Senate "not later than Thursday."

Rep. Manasco (D) Ala., chairman of House conferees on the surplus property bill, expressed doubt, however, that his group would have a report ready for Congress before next Monday or Tuesday, the committee appeared to be making progress, however, after a deadlock of several days. A tentative agreement has been reached to have a board and administrator jointly handle the disposal of an estimated 60 to 100 billion dollars in excess war materials.

Recess By Sept. 15

The tentative program of congressional leaders calls for a recess by Sept. 15 until probably mid-November once the two bills have been disposed of.

A possible stumbling block to adjournment is the demand in the Senate from some members that the Upper House enact postwar public works legislation before the election recess.

Sen. Overton (D) La. is passing for consideration of the one billion dollar flood control bill and the 500 million dollar rivers and harbors measure, both already approved by the House. Majority Leader Barkley is reported desirous of having the Senate act on the Hayden road construction bill authorizing the expenditure by the government of one billion 950 million dollars during a three-year period after the war.

AWARDS FOR PLANTS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—(INS)—The War and Navy departments announced today that six additional industrial plants have been selected to receive the joint Army-Navy "E" award in recognition of outstanding performance on war work. They included the Mine Safety Appliances Co., Pittsburgh Plants, Pittsburgh, Pa.

troops and uncounted numbers of robot bomb installations along the Pas De Calais coast of northern France permanently cut off. The Nazis resumed their flying bomb attacks on England after a lull of more than 80 hours, but the fire was not intense and the next few days will probably put an end to it entirely.

Several factors are responsible for the new imposition of strict censorship which militated against fast flow of front-line dispatches and even against routine announcement of Allied progress.

By CHARLES A. SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

Supreme Headquarters, Allied Expeditionary Force, Sept. 5.—Powerful Allied tank formations drove deep into the outer defenses of Nazi Germany today, entering the Netherlands town of Breda and heading for the port of Rotterdam, which Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is hoping to capture intact.

Unconfirmed reports said that Allied artillery is shelling Aachen and possible other strongholds inside the German frontier itself.

Nazis Told Enemy Near

CBS Correspondent Howard Smith reported from Bern that the Nazi radio for the first time had informed the German people that Allied troops have reached the western border of the Reich. Smith also reported capture of Pontarlier, 50 miles north of Geneva, by American motorized troops on the southern front driving to effect a junction with Allied forces in the north.

A German transocean broadcast heard in London said that troops of the British Second Army are pouring into Belgium through a breach made in the German lines at Tournai.

"Waves of heavy bombers have been attacking German road blocks again and again, particularly north and west of Brussels," the broadcast said.

The Paris radio said that American troops have occupied an unidentified German village near the northeastern border of the Duchy of Luxembourg, while British and Algerians broadcasts declared that the Yanks had entered Luxembourg.

A headquarters spokesman said flatly that it has not been confirmed that an Anglo-Canadian spearhead is across the Dutch frontier, nor that Patton's troops have crossed into Germany.

As British and allied forces swept across Belgium, it was estimated that more than 100,000 Germans had been cut off in the coastal area west of liberated Antwerp and the Pas De Calais sector of northeastern France.

Report Breda Stormed

The Dutch news agency Aneta, which has maintained close contact with patriot forces inside Holland, quoted reliable reports as saying that the allied had stormed Breda, a town of 48,000 population seven miles inside Holland and only 30 miles from Rotterdam.

Gen. Eisenhower's communique disclosed that allied forces which entered Antwerp yesterday were busily engaged in clearing the dock area by nightfall.

It was said to be unlikely that Antwerp's docks were seriously damaged by the Germans before they evacuated the port, possession of which will enable the allies to pour in a steady flow of reinforcements and material for the drive through Holland and into Germany.

The stubborn Nazi garrison at Le Havre, it was revealed, has rejected another ultimatum that it surrender.

The communique also announced the liberation of Louvain, 14 miles east of Brussels; Mitchelen, about halfway between Brussels and Antwerp; Alost, about nine miles west of Brussels, and the French industrial city of Lille, near the Belgian border.

Over 300,000 Prisoners
(A British radio broadcast heard by CBS said that the total number of Nazis taken prisoner in the region from Antwerp to Sedan, some 100 miles to the south is now above 300,000. A "mass surrender" of German troops was said to be in progress throughout this area.)

A large German pocket was eliminated southwest of Mons in Belgium, where 9,000 prisoners were taken. Forty Nazi tanks and 1,500 motor vehicles were destroyed in this sector. Other local pockets of enemy resistance were mopped up south of Tournai and in the areas of Marchiennes and Villoroux.

South of Charleroi, the towns of Florennes and Beaumont fell to units of Lieut. Gen. Courtney Hodges' U. S. first army.

Large-scale mopping-up operations are under way in the Mons-Charleroi area, where disorganized German divisions are being steadily decimated. The extent of the disorganization was indicated by the fact that one division contained only three officers and 90 men, another ten officers and 140 men and another 800 men of all ranks equipped with only 100 infantry weapons.

Beyond St. Mihiel
Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton's Jr.'s third army was declared to be advancing northeast of historic St. Mihiel, in the area between Metz and Nancy, but the communique failed to specify whether or not his forces have crossed the German border in the area of Perl, as has been reported.

British and Canadian forces closing in on the Pas De Calais robot bomb coast north of the Somme river have reached the towns of Hesdin, Montreuil and Etaples, the latter only a few miles inland from the channel.

The headquarters spokesman said that the battle for the channel ports has "obviously begun."

DEWEY TO START SPEAKING TOUR

PAWLING, N. Y., Sept. 5.—(INS)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey leaves the seclusion of his Quaker Hill farm today on one of the most intensive Republican campaigns for the White House in modern political history.

In pointed contrast to President Roosevelt's indicated plan of delivering few political talks, the Republican presidential nominee revealed that he will wage a continuous two-month speech-making campaign, starting Sept. 7.

Gov. Dewey, on the eve of a coast to coast tour, during which he will deliver seven major speeches in such widely separated places as Philadelphia and San Francisco, announced that he will participate later in joint radio broadcasts with 24 other Republican governors.

Sergt. J. W. Bevan Killed In Action

War Department Reports Death Of New Castle Man In France, August 18

Mrs. Rachel Bevan, Long avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Bevan, West Falls street, received the sad news Monday from the War Department that their husband and son, Sergt. James W. Bevan, 23, was killed in action in France on August 18.

Sergeant Bevan went into service in July 1942 and was attached as a machine gunner to the infantry. He will be remembered by all base ball fans here. He played first base for the Loyal Order of Moose, No. 51, during the first half of 1942.

The last letter received from Sergeant Bevan was dated August 16.

MOST OF DISTRICT SLEEPS THROUGH QUAKE SHOCKS

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 5.—(INS)—The western Pennsylvania district slept through an earthquake tremor that rattled dishes and shook houses at 12:45 a. m. today.

In Pittsburgh there were a few calls to police stations and newspaper offices. J. M. Perrone of Bellevue avenue reported: "I felt the whole apartment building shake."

James Casey, teletype operator at Allegheny county detective headquarters, said that everything in his apartment began to dance.

"The man upstairs said it felt as if someone were shaking the front porch," he added.

Dr. G. S. Bennett, who always has a worthwhile message, will be our speaker on Wednesday, September 6, at the weekly luncheon meeting in The Castleton. His subject will be "What are you worth?" There will be a directors' meeting, Thursday, September 7, in The Castleton.

Springfield, O. Is Selected For Next Reunion

Members Of 332nd Infantry Association Have Enjoyable Reunion Here Over Week-End

Springfield, O., was selected as the site of the 1945 reunion of the 332nd Infantry association Sunday morning when the business session of the association was held in The Castleton at the closing session of the reunion. Officers were named for the coming year, all from Springfield. They follow: president, Frank L. Metz; vice president, William Robbins; treasurer, Horace Keiger; and secretary, William Mantle.

The annual dinner was held Saturday night in the hotel, with Edward D. Pritchard serving as master-of-ceremonies. President Joseph L. O'Leary opened the program following the dinner and introduced Mr. Pritchard. A professional floor show followed the program.

On Sunday morning the annual memorial service was held, with Rev. Thomas J. Jones, president of the New Castle Ministerial association, delivering the sermon. Miss Anna Mann was the soloist.

The association is composed of men who served with the 332nd infantry in the first World War. For the most part they are from western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio.

During the dinner Saturday night a collection for cigarette money for the men at Deshon General Hospital Annex in Cunningham Park was taken up. The total of the collection was $52.93, which has been turned over to Miss Mary Lou Hickey, recreational director for the American Red Cross at the Annex.

Hitler Ordered Execution Of Field Marshal

ROME, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Adolf Hitler personally ordered the death of Field Marshal Reichenau in 1941, a German telephone operator captured on the Italian front revealed today.

An official announcement at the time said Reichenau had died following a heart attack.

According to the operator, execution of the field marshal was ordered in Munich on Sept. 19, 1941. Addressing Gen. Hasenroder, Hitler was quoted as saying:

"Six hours from now I don't want that man Reichenau in the land of the living."

Hit By Lightning, But, Out Of Bottle

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Lightning flashed through the sky during a heavy rainstorm. Charles Pilman, 56, fell to the street.

A passerby saw Pilman fall and a call was put in for police with the information that "a man has been struck by lightning."

Two police cars rushed to the scene. But Pilman wasn't taken to a hospital. He was taken to a police station and charged with intoxication.

Commented the desk sergeant: "Sure, he was hit by lightning, about four doubleheaders out of a pint bottle."

Can Still Catch 'Em

A persevering angler can still catch fish—big wall-eyes that come toward shore to feed along about midnight, and vanish to the depths with the dawn, bluegills and crappies that seem to awaken with the approach of darkness, and occasionally a big-mouth bass or northern pike that lingers in the shallows throughout the day despite the high temperature of the waters there. While he's casting his fly or trolling his lure at dusk the fisherman may hear the infrequent plop of a muskrat feeding among the reeds, or spy a lone beaver lazily spreading a V-shaped wake toward his domed dwelling, obscure in the gathering gloom.

The screaming, raucous cry of the ubiquitous loon shatters the silence at long intervals, serving only to emphasize it. The ceaseless hum of mosquitoes and other unseen insects, last spring a lively serenade, has become a monotonous of warm undertones. Night prowlers seem to move more silently, and the cry of the predator owls is muted.

The north country is in the summer doldrums, waiting the autumnal awakening.

CAMPFIRE CORNER

SUMMER DOLDRUMS

Deep summer has slyly spread its mantle over the northern lakes country. So stealthily has it crept into the woods, along the water-courses and across the wilderness meadows that one is scarcely aware of any change until he recalls the voracious migratory flocks of May and early June, the wild strawberries that flourished only yesterday along the roadside, and the waning wealth of raspberries that nature so extravagantly squandered among the down timber and the desolation of burned-over land.

The songsters have long since winged northward or scattered to build their nests. Brown-eyed susans and goldenrods of the open spaces have substituted for the showy ladyslippers, trilliums and purple violets of the swamps and woods. Fireweed paints cerise blotches where forest merges into marsh, and hazelnuts are swelling with promise of rich fruition.

It's hot just now in the north woods—and how hot, oppressively hot it can be here at times! Hot, and for the most part, silent. Even the croaking of frogs in Mud bay of an evening is keyed to a deeper pitch, to harmonize with the tempered sighing of the occasional warm night breeze.

Can Still Catch 'Em

A persevering angler can still catch fish—big wall-eyes that come toward shore to feed along about midnight, and vanish to the depths with the dawn, bluegills and crappies that seem to awaken with the approach of darkness, and occasionally a big-mouth bass or northern pike that lingers in the shallows throughout the day despite the high temperature of the waters there. War Plants Kept Going Over Labor Day, Train Travel Is Reported Heavy

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 5.—(INS)—The Automobile club of Pittsburgh today reported that in Western Pennsylvania there was five times as much motor travel over the week-end as the district marked its third World War II Labor Day than last year.

Meanwhile, to war industries in the Pittsburgh area it was just another day for production of materials critically needed by the armed forces. At United States Steel and Jones & Laughlin Steel Corporation mills, as well as the Dravo shipyards and other operations on Neville Island all plants operated at their normal rate.

Heavy travel was reported on both the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie and the Baltimore & Ohio Railroads. All bus lines out of the Greyhound terminal were operating extra sections a dispatcher said.

Deaths Of Two Boys Accidental

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 5.—(INS)—Authorities today advanced the opinion that the deaths of Charles Hall, eight, and his brother, Richard, nine, whose bodies were found in the Allegheny river, were accidental.

They theorized that one of the boys had fallen into the river and that the other had jumped in to save him. An autopsy showed that Charles had died of strangulation, due to a ball of wool in his throat. Police think he may have swallowed the wool fibers while struggling in the water.

CARDINALS BREAK LOSING STREAK

By JOHN CASHMAN
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—(INS)—The dramatic and newsworthy story in 1944 baseball—the tumultuous American league pennant race—reached a dramatic climax today when the New York Yankees, after a bitter uphill struggle, find themselves leading the Yanks, a half-game ahead of the St. Louis Browns.

The Yankees, stricken by the draft and sundry injuries, had grudgingly given up their league lead on May 31. By August 13 not too long ago, the Yankees were 9½ games off the pace, chalked off the slate by experts, and five days later the Browns had a seven-game edge over their nearest competitor.

Now the Yankees are the masters. The Browns are sliding, the Red Sox are on none-too-firm ground and the Tigers, once bouncing around in the second division, are noted as the team to watch.

A double triumph over the Philadelphia Athletics yesterday, 10 to 0 and 14 to 0, put the Yankees on the top step of the much-traveled AL ladder.

Indians-Browns Split
Although the Browns won the second game over the Cleveland Indians, 5 to 1, it was their first game loss, 6 to 4, which put the Yankees on top. The Browns were forced to come from behind in the first game, trailing 3 to 0 lead behind Mel Harder and Joe Evers.

In the nightcap, Nels Potter scattered nine hits over the route to score his 14th St. Louis triumph. The Browns made nine hits off three Indians, including Vern Stephens' homer.

The Joe McCarthy luck also held up in other quarters. The rampant Detroit Tigers split a double-header, taking the first game from the Chicago White Sox, 12 to 2, and losing the afternoon, 6 to 3.

To further clinch the Yankee drive, the once-threatening Boston Red Sox split with a weak Washington Senators' outfit, the Red Sox taking the initial contest, 11 to 7, and losing the afternoon, 9 to 2.

Cards Break Streak
In the uninteresting league, the St. Louis Cards took one victory over the Cincinnati Reds, 3 to 0, as Ted Wilks pitched his 15th triumph of the year. The second game of the scheduled twin bill was rained out.

The New York Giants and Philadelphia Phillies divided, the Giants winning the first, 7 to 0, then dropping the second, 14 to 8.

The Brooklyn Dodgers took both ends of a double-header with the Boston Braves, 4 to 1 and 6 to 4. While the Chicago Cubs and Pittsburgh Pirates split, the Cubs taking the opener, 6 to 3, and losing the afternoon, 4 to 3, when it was called because of darkness after six innings.

MAY PLAY PRO BALL
Bob Wear, former Penn State center, has signed a contract to play professional football with the New York Giants.

At the start of the current season the Birmingham Barons of the Southern League were worried. Three of their mainstays, Pitcher Howard Fox, First Baseman Jodie Beeler, seemed likely to be called up for military service before the season was over.

The Barons officials had nightmares, visualizing one or all of these men being summoned with the club in the thick of a pennant fight.

Ironically enough, all three of them got their calls recently—and all were deferred. It didn't make too much difference, with the Barons hopelessly out of the race at this stage. "We could have had no such luck," says General Manager Paul Florence, "had we been fighting for the flag."

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

A Year Ago, Manager Donie Bush of the Indianapolis Indians gave up on infielder Fred Vaughn. Bush hit the ceiling when Vaughn was picked off second in a close game and concluded he would have no more of what he termed indifferent performance. He gave the veteran an unconditional release.

Mike Kelley, Dean of the American Association, took the player on for his Minneapolis Millers. Vaughn finished the 1943 season for the Millers and was back this year. He has been hitting around the .325 mark most of the campaign.

A few days ago, Kelley sold Vaughn's contract to the Washington Senators for $15,000. "Take nothing for granted in baseball," is an old axiom that still stands up. Kelley just revised it a bit, taking something for nothing and running it up to 15 grand!

Phil Poole, ace pitcher of the Lockport, N. Y. Cubs of the Pony League is a son of Jim Poole, once a slugging first baseman whose trick knee kept him from being a star in the majors. Jim was up with the Philadelphia A's some years back, and left his trade-mark on the fences of many of the better class minors.

Young Phil, the first Pony pitcher to become a 20-game winner this season, seems to have found himself after several years in the game. A brother, Jim, Jr., who belongs to the Roanoke club of the Piedmont League, is now in the service.

Jim, Sr., who set a Southern League record by hitting 50 homers in 1930 hasn't shaken the dust of the diamond yet, for he's managing Erwin of the Appalachian League for the Chicago Cubs.

Three years ago the two Poole boys and their father had at the family resources "pooled" and were together on the Port Pierce Club of the now inactive Florida East Coast loop.

At the start of the current season the Birmingham Barons of the Southern League were worried. Three of their mainstays, Pitcher Howard Fox, First Baseman Jodie Beeler, seemed likely to be called up for military service before the season was over.

The Barons officials had nightmares, visualizing one or all of these men being summoned with the club in the thick of a pennant fight.

Ironically enough, all three of them got their calls recently—and all were deferred. It didn't make too much difference, with the Barons hopelessly out of the race at this stage. "We could have had no such luck," says General Manager Paul Florence, "had we been fighting for the flag."

Plan Tourney At Camp Reynolds

GREENVILLE, Pa., Sept. 5.—A camp-wide softball tournament to decide the post championship will be started at Camp Reynolds Sept. 18, it was announced by Lt. John J. Berman, camp athletic director.

The event will be run on a single elimination basis and current players for nightly contests so as to complete the tournament in a week.

Year ago today: Pauline Betz remains her U. S. singles crown at Forest Hills, beating Louise Brough.

10 years ago today: Dizzy Dean wins 24th game of the season, as the Cards whip Brooklyn, 2-1.

Reds Score In Every Quarter

Score Is 38 To 0 In Camp
Game Saturday, Walls,
Wimer And Andrews

Displaying a brilliant running attack the Reds or first team of New Castle High "Red Hurricane" football players ran rough shod over the Whites or second and third team players Saturday morning at Muddy Creek Falls as the final gesture of the 1944 training season. The score was 38 to 0.

Standing out like sore-thumbs in the Red backfield was Billy Andrews the right-half who does the passing he just pitched four of the touchdown passes to Wimer and Panella, the former getting three of them, all good distance, and Billy Walls, the colored fullback who is hitting the line like a ton of bricks. Walls reeled off two markers one on a 35-yard dash and the other from the one-yard line.

Have Excellent Line
Tackles George Williams and Lynn Betts both big boys, looked real good Saturday in the line, as did the guards Green and Hasson. Kulnis is fitting into the center spot like a silk glove. In the absence of Jim Garberry who has a slight bruise on his leg, Jackson and Richards filled in and did a swell job. At the backfield spots Benigas, Flora and Panella covered a lot of ground and looked mighty good.

Two of the real standouts on the second team were Arthur "Bugs" Hill a guard, former Franklin High, Lineman and Herb "Blondie" Stewart former Washington player, who is going to be a swell utility man, he plays well anywhere the coaches put him.

All of the youngsters got into the game and looked good, they certainly have a lot of spirit in the team this season. Every boy is eager to make good and is showing plenty of fight.

Two-Day Rest
Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh gave the boys a "holiday" and Sunday and Monday the boys enjoyed a real rest after the strenuous camp training grins. Sessions were resumed at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the stadium, and will be held every afternoon and Thursday night.

Har-Brack High with a tough Class AA team is scheduled for the opening game this coming Friday night and the coaches don't have too much time left to polish off the rough edges and get set for the inaugural.

Laneups of the camp game Saturday:

Score by periods:
Reds: 12 6 7 13-38
White: 0 0 0 0-0
Touchdowns: Wimer 3, Walls 2, Panella 1.

Extra-Points: Reds, 2 out of 6.
Referee: Austin Cowmeadow.

SPORTSMEN MEET
SEPTEMBER 12

Lawrence County Sportsmen will meet one week from tonight in Neshamink post hall, V.P.W., East Washington street, according to Association Secretary Hank Dizio. A board of directors meeting will be held at 7 p.m. and the regular meeting will begin at 8 o'clock, he stated.

Championship Game
Monday Postponed

Due to the fact that both Dean Park and Cozy Corners were unable to have their best team on the field for the game scheduled for Monday afternoon at George Washington field, the postponed game, which will have an important bearing in the league race, was again postponed.

The game will likely be played at Washington Field next Saturday afternoon.

Cozy Corners will play the Johnson Bronze third turn all star team at Washington Field, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. The All Stars are managed by "Porky" Parkinson and boast such stars as Woods, Morgan, Caravella, and Reed.

Must Play Off Postponed Games

Managers of the Johnson Bronze, Shenango Pottery and I.A. Machinists softball teams of the Industrial league are asked to get together this week and get all postponed and tied games played off.

The Bronze won the first half and the second-half is a tight race between the three teams mentioned above. The managers should notify the News Sport department of the scheduling of any games this week.

Moose Play Today,
Also Wednesday

Loyal Moose will play at the P.R.R. Shop at the E. & A. field at 5:45 p.m. today and will clash with the I.A.M. at Lee avenue at 5:45 p.m. Wednesday, it was reported today.

Moose broke even Sunday with West Pittsburgh, winning the first half of a twin bill 7-3 but dropping the last half, 3-1.

NEW KIND OF WAR
One ex-serviceman is listed among the candidates for Penn State's 1944 football team.

Thirty-Three Former Penn State Athletes Killed Or Missing

Score Is 38 To 0 In Camp
Game Saturday, Walls,
Wimer And Andrews

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Sept. 5.—Thirty-three former athletes are numbered among the dead and missing of the Pennsylvania State college in this war, the Alumni Association announced today. Three ex-gridders are prisoners of war.

The compilation shows that 26 are listed as dead and seven are missing. Newest addition is Lieut. Col. William V. Martz of Pottsville, former football and track athlete, who has been missing in France since August 8. Martz finished his schooling at West Point.

Casualties since D-day have boosted to 150 the number of Penn State's now listed as dead or missing. Prisoners number 20. Lt. Roy Hanna of Altoona, former eastern intercollegiate boxing champion, was wounded in the Sicilian campaign, and has since been awarded the distinguished service cross. He's a paratrooper in Italy.

Score Of Alleged Gamblers
Arrested At Philadelphia-New York Giants
Game

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 5.—(INS)—A score of alleged gamblers were slated for hearings in Philadelphia today following their arrest during the ninth inning of the Philadelphia-New York Giants double-header opener yesterday.

The raid was carried out by 15 members of the Quaker City's vice squad and followed an investigation by privates detectives hired by Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis.

In a letter to Public Safety Director James H. Malone, Landis described the gambling activities at Shibe park at the "worst in the country." The baseball czar requested that "gambling in Shibe park must be stamped out" and local police "clean up the park and keep it clean."

BEAGLE CLUB
MEETS TONIGHT

Shenango Valley Beagle club will meet at the Training area at seven o'clock tonight according to Secretary Robert J. Morrow. Ensign John Greer, former secretary, will attend the meeting. Plans will be discussed for taking over the clubhouse and a future field trial.

Betz And Parker Kings Of Tennis

Pauline Betz Wins Women's Championship, Sgt. Parker Men's Champion

By PAT ROBINSON
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—(INS)—We undoubtedly have had tennis champions with more class than Pauline Betz and Sgt. Frank Parker of the army air corps. But you may be assured we never had a gamier nor a nicer pair on the tennis thrones.

Nor are either of them so far out-classed by former champions as is generally supposed. Miss Betz probably could have made at least the semi-final round of the championships in any year and the same may be said for Parker. Indeed, Parker has been ranked among the first ten for many years.

Parker Improved
Parker showed surprising improvement in his all-around game. His forehand, once his greatest weakness, was sound, and he played with more assurance than ever before.

Bill Talbert of Indianapolis whom Parker beat for the title yesterday, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3, discovered as have so many others that Parker is a most discouraging opponent. The sergeant's uncanny steadiness and the depth of his strokes forces opponents errors. He keeps the ball going back over the net until the other fellow makes a mistake.

Church Golfers Battle Thursday

Four matches will be played in the New Castle church golf league at Castle Hills on Thursday night. The matches must be started not later than 6 o'clock owing to the days getting shorter.

The games Thursday will be the ones that were called off by the heavy rain storm on Thursday, August 17, as follows:
Mahoning vs First U. P.
Harbor vs First Presbyterians.
First Baptist vs Highland U. P.
First Christians vs Epworth.

Hold Revolver Shoot Tonight

New Castle Revolver Club will hold a Basic course shoot at eight o'clock tonight at the Cathedral square. Other club events will consume the balance of the evening. Scores for last week's shoot follow: McKee 91; C. Schweinsberg 90; Hoissner 83; Brunton 82; Bilger 81 and Jim Allen 75. The scores were submitted by Adjutant Brunton.

Johnson Bronze Beats Universal

Huston, Manager Of Universal Pottery, Poles Three Triples, Also Single

Johnson Bronze ran their winning column up to 14 Sunday when the Bronze defeated the Universal Sanitary Pottery 14 to 8 in a slugfest on Marshall field. Each team amassed 15 hits. Flintall hit a home run with three "aboard" in the second while Houston slammed three triples and a single and Kroesen got one.

The box score:

Wisconsin Gets Aid From Navy

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 5.—(INS)—Coach Harry Stuhldreher of the University of Wisconsin football team expected 40 additional candidates for his squad to turn out for practice today, all from the navy training school on the campus.

The first practice was held yesterday at Camp Randall when 65 civilian candidates reported. On this group, 23 were newcomers who did not take part in the summer drill. The navy trainees all worked out during the summer.

More Mines Are Taken Over By U. S. Government

(International News Service)
Further government seizures in the western Pennsylvania-West Virginia bituminous fields were anticipated today on the heels of an order by President Roosevelt taking over eight more pits as strikes and Labor Day absenteeism cost a nation at war close to 300,000 tons of coal needed for the production of steel.

It was estimated more than 63 mines in the area were closed on Labor Day, leaving approximately 22,000 miners idle. Of these 39 mines were out of production due to absenteeism, 26 were out due to the United Mine Workers District 50 supervisory employees union drive for recognition, and the remaining four were closed by other grievances.

Eighteen Taken Over
Yesterday's mine seizures, made in an attempt to close the breach in production opened by the UMW drive, brought to 18 the total number of government-operated pits in the western Pennsylvania area as of this morning.

In Washington, deputy solid fuels administration C. J. Potter declared that other mines will be taken over as quickly as production is halted by walkouts of mine foremen.

"If the strikes occur," he said, "the only thing left to do is to take over the mines. We've agreed with the War Labor Board to do that."

There were still mines, six of them in West Virginia, which were down in the union's recognition fight with the operators but which had not yet been taken over by the government.

Strike votes were scheduled to be counted in Pittsburgh late today as to whether supervisory workers in 13 West Virginia and two Kentucky mines desire to join the spreading walkouts.

Davis Reports G.O.P. Stronger In State

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 5.—(INS)—United States senator James J. Davis believes that Pennsylvania looks better today for the Republicans than at any time since 1932.

In four trips across the state, Davis said, he had found "a great change in the sentiment of four years ago."

The senator, in Pittsburgh after speaking at the State Letter Carriers' convention in Greensburg, added:

"I find men openly espousing the cause of Governor Dewey who were not very vocal in the Willkie or Landon campaigns. I find the Republicans have the satisfying thought they are going to win—and I spend most of my time in the industrial districts."

DON'T WASTE ELECTRICITY JUST BECAUSE IT ISN'T RATIONED

Get it over with. Get back home. Get a job. That is what our fighting men are thinking and talking about.

First — victory. Next — nail down the peace.

Then they want to throw off the rigid regimentation of military life — and not run into the same sort of regimentation back home.

They want to set out for themselves, as Americans always have . . . to use their own heads and hands in fashioning their own destiny.

A job and an opportunity — in the American system of free enterprise. This is the post-war plan of men in uniform.

Government can't be expected to carry out these plans. It's up to every one of us at home to see that they're fulfilled — eleven million times.

We will do our part.
